Meet Buster

Brain Talk

©Bogen & Lindemuth, 2015

Remember what Mr. Mouse does?

Mr. Mouse seeks things that are comfortable and avoids things that are uncomfortable.

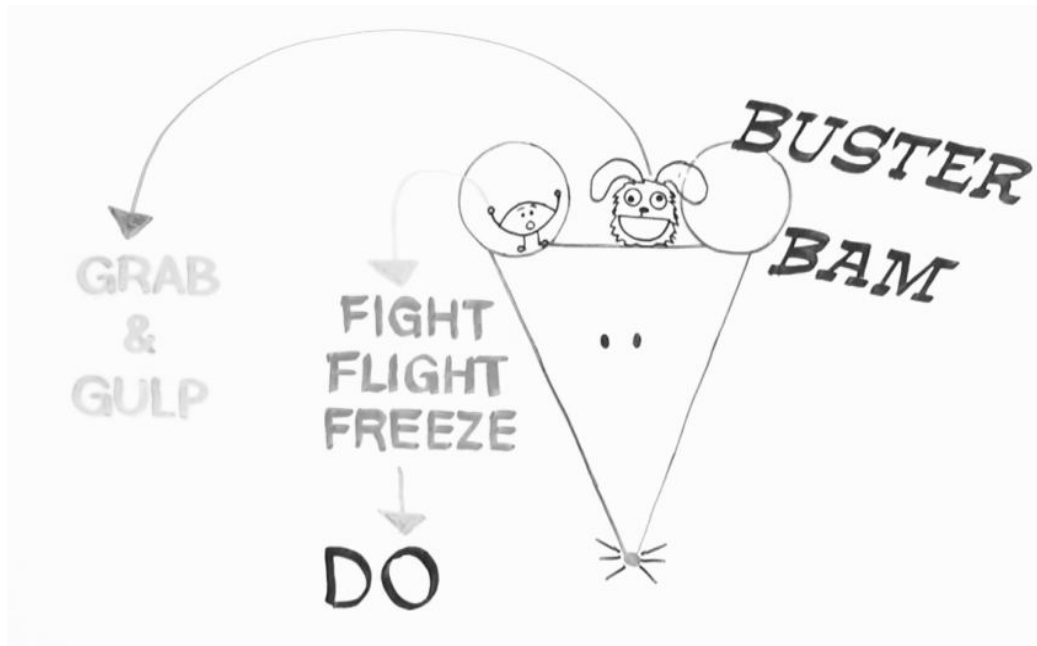

Myg acts like the brain's alarm system. If it senses a threat, Mr. Mouse has a Myg Moment, which causes a fight, flight, or freeze reaction.

4

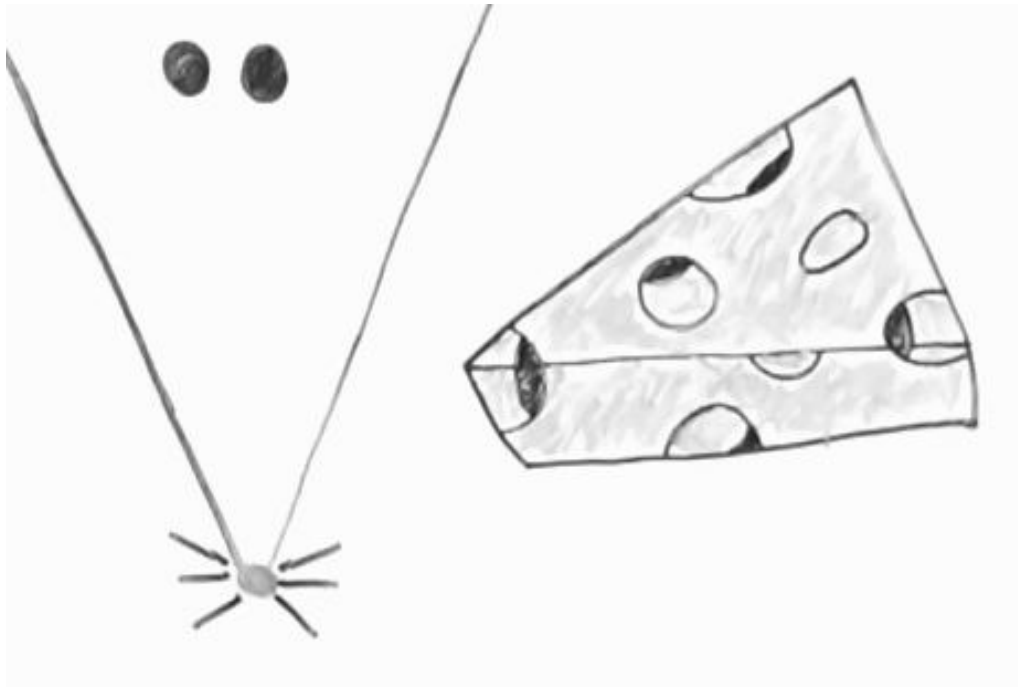

Buster is the special part of the brain designed to look for opportunities that seem awesome!

5

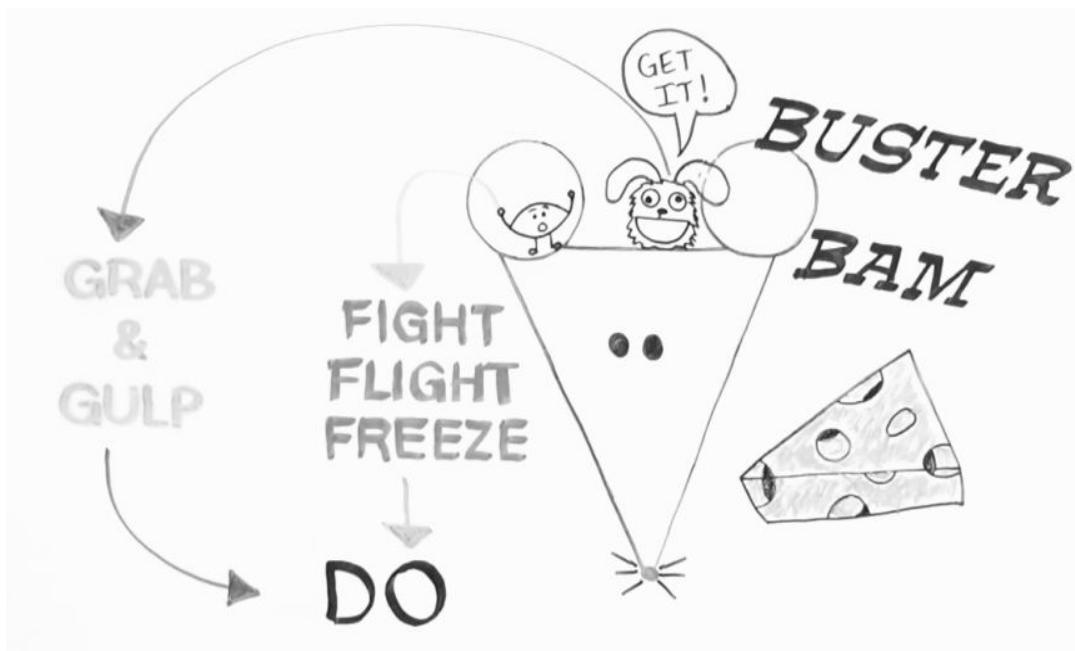

When Buster sees something that looks like an awesome opportunity, it has a grab and gulp reaction. We call that a Buster Bam.

If Mr. Mouse sees some cheese, which is awesome, he has a Buster Bam!

Buster tells Mr. Mouse's brain to get as much cheese as quickly as possible.

Buster sends the Grab and Gulp action message through the rest of Mr. Mouse's nervous system, telling his body to do it.
