

AREAS

In your classroom or bedroom, look at each of the walls and break them down into how many square metres there are on each wall. To concentrate even more, don't count the doors and windows.

