

INTERVIEW PANEL

- A group of five brainstorm a response and viewpoint to an issue.
- While the group are preparing, the rest of the class looks at the issue and comes up with questions to ask the group.
- The group gives a five minute presentation with each member speaking for one minute.
- The class records their main points.
- The group then sits at the front of the room as an interview panel.
- Then the panel gets asked the questions to be answered.
- Everyone is entering both the questions and the answers in the sections on this page.
- After looking at the issue and reflecting on the answers, individuals are asked to reach a conclusion.
