

Red Herring.

Is when someone raises an issue to take attention away from what the discussion is about.

E.g. when discussing students being punctual to class, someone raises the issue that students aren't engaged in class.

- Describe a time when you have thought this way.

- Why do you believe that thinking this way may have caused you to arrive at decisions which really were not logical?

- What is one thing you could start doing to avoid thinking this way?
