ROAD SAFETY AWARENESS

There are many groups who use our roads, including cars, trucks, motor bikes, pedestrians, bicycles and more. Each group has their own particular road safety issues.

This activity is about selecting a road user group and investigating their road safety issues.

What road user group is your group looking at?
Who are the members of your group?
As a group brainstorm what each of you know about this user group using our roads and road safety issues for this group.
What information do you want to find out about this user group which would improve their road safety?

So every member of your group can be actively involved, each of you investigate one of the questions below.

Find out the most recent statistics for your country about your user group.
What are some dangers, issues or problems for this user group using the roads?
Are there any special rules for this user group or ones that are particularly important for them?
What are some road safety aspects that really relate to this user group?
Who is particularly at risk within this user group and why?
Are there any other topics or information that you think would be of value when researching your specific user group?
As a group how are you going to present the information each of you has found?
Ensure all group members are involved.
What are the most important things to do to ensure that your group is safe on the roads?
